An Old and Respected Citizen Passes over The River.

MANY FRIENDS ATTEND THE FUNERAL.

Last Saturday afternoon the subject of this writing paid the debt due from all the living.

"Uncle Perry" as he was familiarly called, was one of the kindest and one of the best citizens of Adair County known to everybody, as he had been a weekly visitor to Columbia since early boyhood. To our knowledge he never had trouble with any man—a peacemaker by nature, he met you with a smile, and in parting gave you hand a warm clasp. He was born near where he died March 28, 1815, making him 91 years, four months and four days old. He was a son of William Hancock, who served under Washington in the Revolutionary war.

Sixty-five years ago "Uncle" Perry confessed his Savior, joined the Christian church, and lived a consistent member until his death. He was three times married. His last wife was Miss Elizabeth Cravens, who survives him together with four children.

The funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon by Eld. Z. T. Williams, many relatives and friends being present.

To the widow and other surviving members of the family, we desire to extend our deepest sympathy.

Compliments reach this office, made by residents of Columbia, of the filthy condition of the hack alleys and other places in town. The odor arising from the filth is calculated to bring disease unless something is done to put Columbia in a better sanitary condition. The health officer has notified the town authorities through the county papers of this lamentable state of affairs, yet no steps have been taken, so far as we know, to heed his notices. He has also, as we have been informed, given notices to property owners to cleanse their premises and scatter disinfectants. Do not wait until disease strikes the town, then begin the work of cleaning up, but do it now in order that the community may retain its good, healthy condition. Columbia pays about $2,000 taxes and some of that money should be expended in keeping the town free from filth.

LOGS WANTED.

We are now located where Hurt Bros., did business and are ready to buy logs on our yard. Will pay the highest cash price. Standard Hardwood Lumber Co. W. D. Frazier and Walker Bryant, Managers. 39-4t Columbia, Ky.

Dr. R. H. Perryman, of the eastern portion of the county, spent a few days of last week with his Columbia friends. He reported that crops were good on Green River and that the farmers were jubilant. He also stated that there was some sickness in his locality, but there were no cases of a serious nature. The doctor is one of the oldest practitioners in Adair County, having entered the profession 43 years ago.

Mr. Jo Ellison, who lives on Disappointment is in a critical and most pitiful condition. He has a cancer in his mouth, and it is said by those who have visited him that his suffering is constant and not a remedy used alleviates the pain. It is further said that in order to give his family as little trouble as possible that he spends much of his time alone, in the woods. A cancer is a terrible affliction, and we never see a person who has become a victim to the disease, but who has our sympathy.

GOOD OUT OF NAZARETH.

It is not often that Jewels come from Belle county, but in conductor M. O. Winfrey, Owen county seems to have found a jewel. Belle county is one of the most intensely Republican counties in the State. Yet what few Democrats live in that mountain fastness are died in the wool." Mr. Winfrey who is conducting the Owen County Teacher's Institute is from Belle county. He is one of the best educators in the State and would make a splendid Superintendent of schools. Bob Ford, who lives in Middleboro, says that Mr. Winfrey is all right, and that is a certificate of character in this part of the world. Professor Winfrey has rendered valiant services to the school interests of Kentucky. For several years past he has been the most active educational worker in the State, and is the first real leader the teachers of this State have produced since the death of Ed Porter Thompson. We predict the election of Mr. Winfrey at the November election, and the people of Kentucky and the Democratic party will do a good days work when they put him at the head of their educational institutions.—Owen County Democrat.

APPROACHING UNION.

Mr. R. Mont Feese to Wed Miss Ella M. Flowers, Both of Columbia.

NO CARDS—A QUIET HOME AFFAIR.

This Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. D. Flowers, who lives on Greensburg street, Mr. R. Mont Feese, a deserving and an industrious young man, who is an attaché of this office, will be married to Miss Ella M. Flowers, one of Columbia's best and popular young ladies. This union will be the culmination of one and a half years courtship, and will not come as a surprise to the intimate friends of the contracting parties.

The ceremony will be impressively pronounced by Rev. W. H. C. Sandigge, pastor of the bride.

In advance of the happy event, the many friends of the couple desire, though the News, to extend their best wishes, trusting that their days may be long upon the earth, and as they go hand in hand down life's pathway may no obstacles appear to mar the happiness that plighted hearts enjoy.

SANDERS—MOSS.

The home of Mr. J. M. Campbell, in the quiet little village of Pellyton, on the waters of Green River, was the place of a joyous gathering last Saturday evening, August the 4th. The occasion was the celebration of the marriage between Prof. Richard R. Moss and Miss Lymie Sanders. When the bride couple appeared on the front veranda a large company of friends had gathered in the yard. The bride was very pretty in a beautiful dress of white. The impressive ritual service of the Methodist Church was said by Rev. A. R. Kasey, of Columbia.

Immediately following the ceremony a sumptuous feast was spread to which more than a hundred guests sat down.

Mrs. Moss is a daughter of Mrs. J. M. Campbell, of Pellyton. She was a student in the Lindsay-Wilson Training School last year, and pursued her studies with serious devotion. She possesses those graces that give to womanhood its charms.

Prof. Moss is at the head of the Normal Department in the Lindsay-Wilson, and during his three years connection with the institution, has made a very enviable reputation as an educator.

After the honeymoon, Prof. and Mrs. Moss will return to Columbia, where they will make their home. Prof. Moss continuing his connection with the school.

Mr. Henry Aaron, who is selling goods at Denmark, Russell County, in partnership with his brothers, Edward and Allen, was in Columbia last Wednesday. It will be remembered that last May, one year ago, these young men were burned out and every dollar they had was swept away. But with the determination to again get on top, they went to Louisville, laid their circumstances before the wholesale merchants. Their frankness pleased the business men of the city and they were furnished with all the goods necessary and again opened their store. Honesty is what makes men. They have enjoyed a fine trade, and they have about paid out of debt. Their loss by the fire was $5,000.

Dr. W. R. Grissom, who accompanied Mrs. Charlotte Patterson to Meridian, Texas, returned home last Friday afternoon. He reports that after the first day Mrs. Patterson stood the long trip well, and that he left her in fine spirits. She is very much interested in Adair county, and wanted to be kept posted concerning local affairs, hence she sent a dollar, and ordered the News forwarded to her address. Dr. Grissom visited several cities in Texas, meeting many Kentuckians, finding them generally well and getting along nicely. At Hillsboro he met Tyler Chandler, Scott Walker and others. He failed to see Porter Strange, who was out of town, traveling for the house he represents. He further stated that the crops in Texas are better than for many years.

Miss Margaret Walker, of Nell, gave a delightful social last Saturday evening, in honor of Miss Eva Wilson, of Bowling Green. All the young people of the neighborhood answered to invitations. The following Columbians were present: Mr. John L. Walker and Miss Bess Rowe; Mr. Bruce Montgomery and Miss Kate Watter; Mr. Herschel Baker, this place, and Miss Pearl Hindman, of Gradyville; Mr. John Flowers, Columbia, and Miss Alice Hindman, of Missouri.

Don't squander your money by helping to pay the salary and traveling expenses of sewing machine agents, and then get an inferior machine, but come to us and buy a "Standard" the best sewing machine made for $25 cash. We have other good machines at $12, $15 and $20. RUSSELL & Co. 39-2t

In the parlors of the Hancock Hotel, last Tuesday night at the midnight hour Mr. Eldridge Stotts was married to Miss Amanda M. Campbell. Judge Junius Hancock performed the ceremony. The couple live in the Breeding county, and immediately after the ceremony left for their future home.

FOR SALE.—My farm of 100 acres on Sulphur Creek, 3 miles from Columbia. About 20 acres of first class bottom and 40 acres of upland in cultivation, balance in timber. Good location, plenty of fine water. Building only moderate. Will sell at a bargain if taken early. L. T. NEAT, Garlin, Ky. (39-2)

Bring your logs to the Standard Hardwood Lumber Company, and get the cash. 39-4t

'As an evidence that Columbia is a fine stock town you have only to read the sales made last Wednesday, published in the "Land, Stock and Crop column. Men from various portions of the county were here with mules and about $7000 changed hands.

CONING CONFERENCE.

The Church of the United Brethren of Kentucky will hold their annual conference in Columbia this year. The meeting will be in October, and the services and business will be at the Presbyterian Church. It is our understanding that there are between thirty and forty ministers in the Conference, many of them able men. Columbia once a year, has had the pleasure of hearing a Bishop of extra denomination, and invariably extraordinary good sermons have been delivered. This town will take pleasure in entertaining the Conference.

Judge Sam Gann, who removed from Russell county to Lincoln county last year, will return to Jamestown this Fall. He has purchased the stock of goods from Mrs. Belle Patterson and the inventory will be taken the first of October. Mr. Gann is an experienced merchant, having spent many years behind the counter. His friends throughout Russell county will be glad to learn that he is going to return to his old home.

We are ready to buy all kinds of merchantable timber in the log on our yard in Columbia. The mill will be cutting in a few days. Standard Hardwood Lumber Co. See W. D. FRAZIER or WALKER BRYANT. 39-4t

NOTICE.

Four monuments that sold at $75 can now be bought at $60; four that sold for $25 now $20, one that sold at $80 now $65. When these are closed out no more can be had at these prices.

COAKLEY & SIMMS BROS.

Mrs. Polly George, who lived near Denmark, died last week. She was the mother of Dr. Robt. George and was about 75 years old. She was a victim of a cancer.

Eld. Lawrence Williams will assist his father, Eld. Z. T. Williams, in a meeting to begin at Cane Valley on Monday night after the fourth Sunday in this month.

The three bridges on Butler's branch, (Camp Creek) has been replaced by Josh Butler and a good job, the approaches well filled with rock and gravel.

The Columbia Fair Association put its track in first class condition last week. Up to date the prospects for an interesting fair was never better.

HAGER OPENS CAMPAIGN

Vigorously Answers Hays at Mt. Ster- ling.

MONTGOMERY DEMOCRATS GIVE HIM A WARM WELCOME AND TURN OUT IN FORCE TO HEAR HIM, NOTWITHSTANDING INCLEMENT WEATHER — GOOD WORK OF STATE ADMINISTRATION PROVEN TO SATISFACTION OF ALL.

(Special to State Journal)

Mr. Sterner, Ky., July 16—Judge S. W. Hager opened his campaign for the governorship here this afternoon, speaking before a large assemblage of the representative Democrats of Montgomery and the adjoining counties, who came in to hear him notwithstanding the very inclement weather. Attorney C. D. Grubbs introduced him.

Judge Hager spoke for a little over an hour. He reviewed the past record of the late Governor Denner's administration, and answered to the fullest satisfaction of every Democrat present the distorted and malicious charges made by Attorney General Eays against the conduct of the state government. He took Platform of Jefferson.

A better platform has never been devised, the touchstone of which is equal and exact justice to all men and blessings of government secured by restraining men from injuring one another, leaving them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits and not taking from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned. Such was the party of Jefferson; such the party of Jackson, and such is it in this good year of the 20th century hoary with age, but as vigorous as when the sun ran red in old Virginia and shed its splendor upon its infancy. This splendor upon the policy of the people is rich in having "as its corner, fatherhood and conscientious advocacy of the poor." William Jennings Bryan, not of Nebraska, but of the United States at large, whom history has named our next President.

No Increase in Tax Rate.

"This will be done without increase of the present rate of taxation, and when the capitol is completed the tax rate may be reduced. As a member of that administration, I am proud of the record I am proud of the material and economic progress of the country that has been reposed in it, and that the unbounded resources of our mountains and hills have become a fruitful field for the investment of capital, and I am proud that business, commerce and manufacture have laid aside their timidity and shown their confidence in the party which has been in power. I am proud of the conservative policies of that party the backbone of industry lends its muscle to the car."

School Per Capita

"I am proud also that the present administration is to pay, this year, the largest sum in amount and per capita ever paid in support of the common schools of the state, and that while great honor is arrogated and claimed by President Roosevelt for regulation of interstate railroad rates, equal or greater honor may be claimed for our state executive and officials for exerting the full power of the law of the state to secure to the people of Kentucky just and reasonable rates and impartial service from the railroads within principles far alike to the railroads and the people.

Manner of Campaign

"It is my purpose to conduct this campaign upon a high plane, and with dignity commensurate with the honorable and exalted position to which my ambition leads me to aspire. No woman is involved or is to assume character or any utterances of mine for which the contest is ended I want the victor, whether it be myself or my opponent," to have the support of a united Democracy, the by assuring ultimate triumph over the common enemy.

This is a contest for supremacy within the Democratic household, and I would not indulge the character of campaign that would likely result in the accumulation of campaign material to be used by the Republicans in 1907.

Gen. Hays' Complaint.

ally opponent, Mr. Hays, in his opening speech at New Castle, drew a general picture of the administration of the state, which in excess of irony he termed a machine. There are only two machines in the state, he said, the one of limitation has not run against Hays and the other of the machine of the feet and the one termed "Salary reform" has not run against the administration whose term is about to expire. On January 1, 1904, when the present administration of Mr. Hays is a member, the machine of the feet and the machine of the salary reform in the state. In 1903 the nominations for state officers were made in a primary election, the result of which was that the machine in a platform of the machine in which the officers of the state were being conducted by the machine of the feet and the machine of the salary reform, which was promulgated as the platform upon which the campaign of 1904 was based, and the result of the election was that the machine of the feet and the machine of the salary reform in language of burning eloquence and in the language of the machine of the feet and the machine of the salary reform that marked the leading characteristics of that administration. Two that plan to run for the office of governor in 1904, the rest of us were elected by the largest majority received by a candidate in the history of the state.

tion. Hays, equally with other officials constituting the present state administration, is responsible for the present unfairness of the state with a double responsibility, not only to the Democrats of Kentucky, whose representatives they banished from office, but to the people of the state, who have no other understanding by the purpose of criticizing. It is a trite saying that it is much easier to be critical than to be correct. What is the excuse of the Democrats for their infidelity in and to, I do claim for them and myself, that in all administrative matters they have been guided by the very best judgment of which we were capable, and have discharged those duties with an eye single to the best interests of the state, and not to the glory and renown of the state whose interests we are. It is not to be denied that there are persons in Kentucky who have with an unblemished purpose as we can claim ourselves, been endeavoring to bring attempts to excuse himself.

"These criticisms are mainly directed to the several heads of 'public printing,' 'architects' fees,' 'increase of tax and expenditures.'

"With your indulgence, I will briefly note the criticisms, in the order in which he has seen proper to speak of them.

Public Printing.

"Under the law of the state, public printing is let to the lowest bidder to four separate classes of work, and the bids are taken upon different classes, and the question is to be first determined as to the Printing Commission as determining the compensation to be paid is as to the particular class of the particular printing. In the Teachers' Registers and Trustee Record Books a question arose as to which class that character of work belonged. It was held that it belonged to the class afterwards referred to the Hon. Clifton J. Pratt, the then Attorney General of Kentucky, then and always regarded as a conscientious and able lawyer, and he held it to be to him as a matter of legal construction, as well as by the board, that said class of work belonged to the second class and the work was done at the contract prices, no more and no less.

"This whole question was considered by an investigating committee, appointed by the Senate of Kentucky, which, after hearing all the evidence, made report completely exonerating members of the board from all blame for the improper act, fixing the blame upon the terms of the law and not in its administration by members of the board. Senate Journal, Vol. P. 1215, etc.

"And again, whether the work was first or second class was the question presented in suit filed by Gen. Hays in the Fiscal Court of the state, and the members of the board had previously decided, that the work in question belonged to the second class.

"If Gen. Hayne is sincere in his criticism, that the tax-paying public has been outraged in the particulars stated by him, it is open to him to carry this law question to the Court of Appeals, which, as I am advised, he has not done. May I venture a layman's opinion that the people have constituted the courts as final arbitrators in matters of legal controversies, and that he would better try his case before that high tribunal before venturing criticism of the acts and motives of his fellow-members.

Capitol and Architect's Fees.

"I have already referred to the plan of the commission in granting a loan of $100,000 to the Louisville and Nashville trolley having a capital bulging with the best aspirations of her people. As the Louisville and Nashville trolley the Capital Commission is to be assured because it did not accept the plan of $100,000, promising a completion of a capital at $250,000. Forty or more architects and engineers were called upon and was never before the board. Even Gen. Hayes did not vote for his plan, and the board was not to be deceived. Mr. Myers would have proved to be, of course, a matter of mere conjecture, but the fact is that the Capital Commission of Kentucky as equal in character and dignity to any gentlemen of the state would not have been deceived. The result in the matter of constructing it, it did not interpret its action as a failure. It was not to be taken a "hand-me-down" suit, but to get a "good fit," meaning a result that would be fitting. In fair open competition Mr. Myers was not the only one who showed efficiency in the magnificent new hotel. The fact is that the Capital Commission in process of construction at Cincinnati, was not the only one who was selected. The fees to be paid for "superior" are less than those prescribed by the state for the construction of the best, and whatever the cost of the building, the Capital Commission of Kentucky and the payment of this sum is made by provision of the contract.

The Adair County News.

Adair County News Company.

INCORPORATED.

CHAS. S. HARRIS, - - EDITOR.

A democratic newspaper devoted to the interests of the city of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Postoffice as second-class mail matter.

WED., AUGUST 8, 1906.

The Sub-committee has figured that the cost of the Democratic State primary will be $40,000. The entrance fee of the candidates for United States Senator is fixed at $4,000 each, there being two candidates. There are two announced candidates for Governor and they will have to pay $3,000 each. For the minor offices the assessment is from $2,500 to $4,000. This paper was opposed to the calling of a primary and gave its reasons for its opinion some time ago. We believe that as much fraud can be perpetrated in primary as in a convention, and a convention does not break a candidate to go before it.

Of all the aspirants announced and unannounced, including the eligibles, for Governor it appears that Adair county Democrats had rather vote for Hon. Ollie James than for any other man in the State. Neither Mr. Hager nor Mr. Hays seem to be ideal with many since one is regarded as a powerful wheel in the machine and the other too severe a critic. The fact is that Mr. James is the only man that measures up to the full satisfaction and should he enter the race would make a clean sweep in this part of the State.

Democrats are beginning to make up their minds and give expression as to their choice in the large list of entries now in the field for Democratic honors. The contests for Governor and Senators over shadows all others and in both instances it is a hard proposition for many to determine who should be placed on the ticket. At this time it would be mere guess work to put any man in the lead.

Allen Mathis, a negro brute, who assaulted Miss Ethel McLean a white girl and the telephone operator at Mayfield, was given quick justice last Wednesday. He was tried, convicted and executed in less than one hour. He confessed his guilt.

W. M. Brown married Miss Bettie Perry, of Bessemer, City, N. C. In one hour after the ceremony John M. Kincaid shot and killed the bridegroom, shooting him five times. Under promise of marriage Brown had ruined Kincaid's sister.

It is predicted that Wm. Hearst will be the Democratic nominee for Governor of New York.

Mrs. J. A. Hubbard's health is improving sufficiently to visit around.

Mrs. A. W. Curry, who has been in a very critical condition for some time, is not much better.

OBITUARY.

On May 19th the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Watson, of Lebanon and took from them their oldest son, Finis. His death was due to consumption. He was on his return from New Mexico where he had been to try to regain his health.

Finis A. Watson was married to Miss Ida Yates, November 19th 1902. To this union were born two children, both of which have been called to Him who said "Suffer little children to come unto me." The oldest child died just four months before, and the youngest, one month after the death of their father. A while before he died he called his loved ones to his bedside, bade them good bye, and asked them to meet him in heaven.

We would say to his loved ones; weep not as those who have no hope, for Finis is now with friends in heaven, singing songs of praise to Christ, waiting and watching for loved ones to come. May we all live to meet him.

Our sympathy goes out to his many friends and relatives, and especially to his bereaved wife, but our loss is his eternal gain.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Prather, and the remains were laid to rest in the Lebanon cemetery.

On that bright and cloudless morning, When the dead in Christ shall rise; We shall meet to sing forever In that home beyond the skies.

There we'll meet our long gone loved ones,

On that happy golden shore; And we'll see our blessed savior; And His holy name adore.

A FRIEND.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE.

No girl or woman, however closely guarded, can escape the possibility which may arise of having to care for herself, and perhaps others, at some turn of the tide of fortune. No one who has closely observed the struggles of women in a large city, to earn a living, can fail to note the peculiar hardships of married women suddenly forced from the home into bread-winning. In most large cities there are thousands of women from the age of forty years upward, unskilled in any business or trade, who are forced by some necessity to engage in gainful occupations. Many of these women are wives or widows, who long past the age when they might rightly have been expected to go out into the world and work, have suddenly found themselves forced out of the home to seek employment in order to support small children or a disabled or invalid husband, without having had the least training in any business or trade.

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.
"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley, of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At T. E. Paull's, druggist. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

When the average man does you a favor he never lets you forget it.

WISE OR OTHERWISE.

Never judge a man's worth by the taxes he pays.
The school of experience is open 24 hours each day.

A very young man likes to be mistaken for a cynic.

Jokes we enjoy most are those on the other fellow.

Nothing pleases some people more than to be misunderstood.

It doesn't take a fast young man long to distance his income. Milk of human kindness is never run through a cream separator.

The Yellow Fever Germ has recently been discovered. It bears a close resemblance to the malaria germ. To free the system from disease germs the most effective remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed to cure all diseases due to malaria poison and constipation. 25c at T. E. Paull's drug store.

NOTES ON SHEEP.

Fatten the lambs well before sending to market.

Ground feed will not be lost on the lambs now.

Ventilation should be provided, but direct drafts avoided.

The remaining part of the crop can be pulled before frost and stored for winter food.

To give best results not over fifty members of mutton sheep should be penned together.

Turnips may be made use of as a fall feed. Turn the flock into the field and let them cut the turnips.

Rough hillsides, if they are covered with rich grasses, make the very best pasture land for sheep.

All flocks should be graded according to age, size and condition as far as is practicable.

The most unfavorable conditions under which sheep can be grown is to constantly subject them to feeding on low marshy pastures.

Medium sized sheep usually have the best and heaviest fleeces.

One good sheep will usually bring in more profit than two poor ones. Usually the poor ones are kept at a loss.

The best fleece will ever be the mark of the best sheep, provided, of course, that it has a good thrifty form.

The fleece and the carcass make up the sheep and if either is inferior, the sheep is inferior, no difference how good the other may be.

The end in view in keeping sheep is profit, and the question is how best to conduct the business to obtain a profit from the growing of wool or mutton.

Keep the best animals in the most economical manner and so breeding and manipulating the flock and fleece as to secure the best price for what is sent to market.

As far as can be done, the flock should be selected and culled so that there will be but one grade of wool—well treated fleeces—as no matter how meritorious each may be, the best prices cannot be realized.

To know how to care for sheep so as to make them grow the largest and finest fleeces and the most vigorous lambs is the most important part of flock management.—Ex.

Frightfully Burned.

Chas. W. Moore, a machinist, of Ford City, Pa., had his hand frightfully burned in an electrical furnace. He applied Buchen's Arnica Salve with usual result: "a quick and perfect cure." Greatest healer on earth for Burns, Wounds, Sores, Eczema and Piles. 25c at T. E. Paull's, druggist.

Fell Dead.

A man fell dead in Chicago the other day from heart trouble, and thousands die every day in the same way. But the cause of nine out of ten of such cases of heart trouble is indigestion. The cure is Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsin. The explanation is that the swollen, inflamed and engorged stomach, presses right up against the heart and prevents it from working your heart flutters, palpitates, pains and you are short of breath: some lose it forever. Just try for these symptoms, a few doses of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and see how quickly it will cure you. Sold by Dr. J. N. Page, of Columbia, and Page and Moore Cane Valley and $1.00. Money refunded if it fails.
